

LADY CAPTAIN'S WEEKLY NEWS

28th October 2024

The main topic this weekend has been the weather, according to the many weather apps out there we are due rain now for the next three days solid. Some Netflix binge watching seems like a good option!

On to last week where we had an Interclub away against Los Naranjos on Monday - 6.5 to 5.5 so a 1- point deficit. We were playing the home today, but Agi sensibly has rescheduled it for later in the month.

Team lunch on Terrace at Los Naranjos

I have been mentioning how busy the course has been in October. Unfortunately, we were oversubscribed on Thursday. The club had to inform a few members that they could not play. This was done as fairly as possible on a last in basis. Stephen was in contact with both of us. We have our commission meeting coming up and members tee times will be high on the agenda.
